

My Reminder

The Beautiful Mistake

The years have gone by fast, oh how we have grown
The times weren't always easy, but hearts and minds revive Now thoughts of you consume me, and I wanted you to know You're the brightest shining star I've ever seen Oh how blessed we are,
to share in everything
Life before was cold, cold and empty Everytime I see your face, I'm reminded of What it means to be alive. The miles will pull apart, and I will not lose sight Of the gift that I've been handed Been blessed so much but why?
I feel so undeserving, but I wanted you to know You're the brightest shining star I've ever seen Oh how blessed we are,
to share in everything
Life before was cold, cold and empty
Everytime I see your face, I'm reminded of What it means to be alive. All for you, you make me want to try
All for you, to give you everything All for you, it makes me want to try
All for you, I'll honor you forever Like the sun that never sets The brightest shining star, you're the brightest shining star I've ever seen. Oh how blessed we are,
to share in everything
Life before was cold, cold and empty
Everytime I see your face, I'm reminded of What It means to be alive.
