All That Really Matters

Eartha

When I close my eyes to say goodbye to life,
All I want to know is that Ive truly strived
Cause all that really matters anymore
Is to love the one whom I truly adore
Hes the one that I am living for
And with all of my heart I want to please the LordI know that Im not all I should be,
But as long as his word abides in me,
Hell cause me to stand
Im in his hand, He knows who I amWhen that day comes for me to take my rest,
All I want to know is that Ive done my best
In spite of the obstacles Ive faced
The countless times Ive fallen in this race
Had it not been for his grace
Gloom would have filled all of my daysAll that really matters anymore
Is just to please the Lord
I want to hear Him say
Well done thy good and faithful servant, enter into my courts;
Well done, enter into my joyI dont know about you or what you want to do
You can have the fame, you can make yourself a name
But all that really matters anymore
Is to please the LordAll that really matters anymore
Is to love the one whom I truly adore
Hes the one that I am living for
And with all of my heart I want to please the Lord.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/