

Tales from Heaven or Hell

Elis

My father died today
A lovely melody is fading
My memories will stay
For months he was waiting For you dark brother of sleep
Limbs are crippled, pain cant be eased
Decline and illness creep
Open doors for you, he is released S my life a castle built on sand
Did i hold a liars hand
Walls of betrayal, roof of lies
Oh im scared what if truth dies Whatever words will tell
Tales from heaven or from hell
Theyll never change our past
What is true will always last His life lies in my hand
A story from an unknown dark land
Happened many years ago
In a town where silent winds blow Ashes to ashes he claims
Scattered pieces, nothing remains
But a fading melody
Some loving words in a diary S my life a castle built on sand
Did i hold a liars hand
Walls of betrayal, roof of lies
Oh im scared what if truth dies Whatever words will tell
Tales from heaven or from hell
Theyll never change our past
Is true will always last This is our story
Lost souls forever we cry
This is our story
For salvation we died.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>