

I Believe

Quo Vadis

One belief that gave rise to a nation
Etched in our history
A future carved in stone Foundation of what was
Yet to come to light
A people reduced to slaves
Never given the right to say I believe
I believe you can never take that away
I believe I cannot lie blind
To fight for a right to be
I will give my life
Believe White dove amongst a murder of crows
A martyr in disguise wearing a robe of gold Outstretched arm hides
Cracked smile lies
Pleasant words try
But no one can deny that I believe
I believe you can never take that away
I believe I cannot lie blind
To fight for a right to be
I will give my life
Believe Beneath the star, the battle lines are drawn tonight
A child runs for cove, holds his mother tight
To take a life comes too easily
How can one live when you must die for your beliefs Can't control myself
I see something else
Gotta control myself
Take me away Gotta speak my mind
Too many walking blind
Gonna have to speak my mind
I believe
