Outbound Line

The Explosion

Coughing up on swallowed pride
Tell me secrets, tell me lies
Count your blessings lose your charm
Break the pattern twist my arm
Going, going and it's goneMusic in my ears on the outbound line
A song for every year that I wasted time
Music in my ears on the outbound line
Feeling it tonight and I'm feeling it tonightNo direction getting lost
No connection fading fastMusic in my ears on the outbound line
A song for every year that I wasted time
Music in my ears on the outbound line
Feeling it tonight and I'm feeling it tonightThere must be something to be said
But those words are falling dead
And my ears are ringing true againMusic in my ears on the outbound line
A song for every year that I wasted time
Music in my ears on the outbound line
Feeling it tonight and I'm feeling it tonight
