Love As Arson

Converge

All these fairy tale forevers welcome everyone in and it's no wonder that she fell from this great blue sky. I can still taste my defeat on these lips and you still have Hell welled up in your eyes. I will burn that bridge when we get to it. Erase the sun. To those who've killed this hope, a presage, I will rise again. Phoenix in flight, I'm here to break your wings I welcome this. Won't let this heart stop beating I won't let this heart stop beating and I wil rise again and again and again... I will rise again.
