

Static

Everlife

it was all crystal clear words like music in my ear we had it goin on but something's wrong, something's changed
'cause when im with you these days, you feel a million miles away connection's not so strong what's going on what's going on 'cause everytime i try to talk to you i end up feeling so confused like you can't hear a word i'm saying when i'm trying to be close to you i'm having trouble getting through i can't stand it
it's so tragic i feel static between us you turn your back then you take my hand it's getting hard to understand is it you, is it me is it time and space you need when you're here, you're not around communication breaking down if i say goodbye to you, will i get through will i get through 'cause everytime i try to talk to you
when i'm trying to be close to you
i can't stand it
it's so tragic
i feel static between us feelings faded in and out tell me what to eager now hold tight or let it go oh, i don't know hello, are you really there? or have you disappeared oh, i can't tell it's like i'm talking to myself 'cause everytime i try to talk to you

i can't stand it
i feel static 'cause everytime i try to talk to you
i can't stand it
i feel static
