

Another Life (feat. Mark Asari)

Kream

Maybe if the sky was open, and the streets were golden, baby
Maybe our love would float like oceans and storms through the rain
I hate that we go so far baby just to throw it away
And I hate it that there's no longer a term called us
We needed to change Maybe in another life we could be together, no goodbye's
Maybe in another life, you and me we can walk down that aisle
Maybe in another life we don't need to paint a perfect love
Maybe in another life we could have it that way. I hate it that we go so far baby just to throw it away
And I hate it that there's no longer a term called us
We needed to change Maybe in another life we could be together, no goodbye's
Maybe in another life, you and me we can walk down that aisle
Maybe in another life we don't need to paint a perfect love
Maybe in another life we could have it that way. If we was in a perfect world,
Maybe I would loved you
The way I used to, baby
It's better that we let it go
Shame what we had to go our separate ways
Maybe we could speak time
To another lifetime
Baby I would be yours,
Maybe you could be my baby
'Cause speed time to another lifetime
Maybe I can love you tonight Maybe in another life we could be together, no goodbye's
Maybe in another life, you and me we can walk down that aisle
Maybe in another life we don't need to paint a perfect love
Maybe in another life we could have it that way.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>