

Limbs

Pinact

Her body aches
She can't control her limbs
They jerk and shake
All the timeSo underwhelmed
And silently depressed
She loves the Sun
Half the timeCheer up, broken one
Looks like you're having fun
There's nothing wrong with staying in tonightIt's okay to call
Even if it's just to say "Hello,
How've you been?"I miss the days
Where I would waste my time with with you
Always it's not the sameWaiting for your call
To hear you say Hello
There's nothing wrong with staying in tonightWe've always been Everything but happy in your eyesLet's run away for a while We'll come home in a year or two
Ooo-oo-oo-ah-ohThere's no way of telling
Which direction we'll be heading
There's nothing wrong with staying in tonightMy body aches
I can't control my limbs
They jerk and shake
All the timeSo underwhelmed
And silently depressed
I love the Sun
Half the timeCheer up, broken one
Looks like I'm having fun
There's nothing wrong with staying in tonight
