

Where the White Boys Dance

The Killers

Take me to the place where the white boys dance
Take me to the place where they run and play
My baby is gone, you might have a chance
Just take me to the place where the white boys dance They hug in silence as the sun sets
On their empty street
Her suspicions, well they're rising high
And the man who sweeps him off she doesn't meet She walks inside and pours a strong one
To put her mind at ease
It's the calm before another storm
Her brain shifts from the whiskey to the keys Take me to the place where the white boys dance
Take me to the place where they run and play
My baby is gone, you might have a chance
Just take me to the place where the white boys dance Her heart is racing, she phones a friend and says
I'm in an awful place
That fools been messing 'round on me
I've seen it in his eyes and on his face "Hold on a minute, you're talking crazy
Don't be that jealous, girl
Just tell Levon you need an hour or two
'Cause we're gonna go and change somebody's world Take me to the place where the white boys dance
Take me to the place where they run and play
My baby is gone, you might have a chance
Just take me to the place where the white boys dance It's the calm before another storm
It's the calm before another storm
Her brain shifts from the whiskey to the keys Take me to the place where the white boys dance
Take me to the place where they run and play
My baby is gone, you might have a chance
Just take me to the place where the white boys dance

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>