

Love Maker (Acoustic)

Saosin

Run away and play your games
Hide real well so I can't find you
I will wait for summer to come
Then laugh as the trees burn down around you Your body is just a test for me
And if I run as fast as I can
The thought of your memory
Will catch up with me, will catch up with me I'm always late with my words
(We tried so hard, we tried so hard)
I should have told you but I never really cared
(You always misled me) I'm always late with my words
(We tried so hard, we tried so hard)
I should have told you but I never really cared
(You always misled me)
You always got the worst of me It's a shame but you're still lying broken here
In this moment everything just seems so clear Because her body was just a test, you see
And if you run as fast as you can
The thought of my memory
Will catch up, you'll see I'm always late with my words
(We tried so hard, we tried so hard)
I should have told you but I never really cared
(You always misled me) I'm always late with my words
(We tried so hard, we tried so hard)
I should have told you but I never really cared at all
(You always misled me) When summer passes I'll let go
If you don't feel me just dig yourself out
When summer passes let me know
So I can find meaning to live I'm always late with my words
(We tried so hard, we tried so hard)
I should have told you but I never really cared
(You always misled me) I'm always late with my words
(We tried so hard, we tried so hard)
I should have told you but I never really cared
(You always misled me)

Songwriters

Cove Reber; Chris Sorenson; Beau Burchell; Alex Rodriguez; Justin Shekoski
Published by HEWFRINGMUSIC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>