

Flagship Eleanor (LP Version)

Seven Mary Three

I've got a tricked-out receiver
And I think it's built to win
I've got one chance to receive her voice
Translucent, delicate Breakdown! Breakout! Eleanor
I think your loneliness is code
It symbolizes every man
Who's empty as a hole Eleanor? I'm waiting for you I've got a number to call you back
But I think "leave well-enough alone"
I chased a shoestring to a heart-attack
Closeted everything I own Come down! Crash land! Eleanor
I think your loneliness is code
It symbolizes every man
Who's empty as a hole Eleanor? I'm waiting for you Flagship?
Come down?
Crash land?
My town? Eleanor?
I'm waiting for you

Songwriters

Pollock, Jason / Ross, Jason Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>