Baby Baby

Thomas Helmig

If you think you can boss me baby, you're wrong hurricane can't touch me I'm much to strong it takes more than your silence to break me down nothing more than a whisper to turn me back around when you say it:
Baby, baby got a little something for you Something that will make you sweat and something that will make you crawl and I'll say it:
Baby, baby you really got me where you want me you can just point your finger baby, you can have it all Ice doesn't cool me heat don't make me burn acting will not fool me
.....
you can shout all you want, baby but I'll stand my ground it takes a soft voice to break my defense down
when you say it:
Baby, baby got a little something for you
Something that will make you sweat
and something that will make you crawl
and I'll say it:
Baby, baby you really got me where you want me
Suddenly we re-discovered each other everything about us disappeared and I found out why there can't be no other when you move close to me, whisper in my ear
