

Make This Right

Katie Trotta

I've been like this for days, quiet as stone.

Hidden away from the world.

I try forcing sleep to escape my thoughts for a moment. I need time to stop.

Can i freeze this frame for now?

Let it start back up when i know how to make this right.

You've been like this for days, angry as fire.

Taking it out on the world.

You're a violent display of a love gone ary, and it's getting worse with time.

Could you please just try to calm down?

I promise i will figure out how to make this right.

How to make this right.

I had the wheel, i let it go, i watched it spin out of control.

It was all on me.

I had the wheel, i let it go, i watched it spin out of control.

It was all on me.

We've been like this for days, distant as stars.

At opposite ends of the world.

Can we bridge this rift in us?

Will you ever learn to trust that i will make this right?

Make this right. I gotta make this right.

Make this right.
