Tall Tales

Spiritual Beggars

Rising up, Ive had enough
Of your lying and backstabbing
Who wants to listen? Who wants to know?
You got a problem and you let it showIm no fool, I see through you
Pitiful, thats what you are
You dont know me, you never did
And sure as hell, never will now, nowThe things you say behind my back
Distorted view of a jealous mind
A jealous mind can be excused
But who are you? Who are you to judge me?So you never believed in me
Tell you the truth
I never thought much of you
Ohh, no, noTelling all tall tales
Makes you feel good
But that black tongue's
Dragging you downTelling all tall tales
Makes you look badSo you never believed in me
To tell you the truth
I never thought much of you
Ohh, no, noTelling all tall tales
Makes you feel good
But that black tongue's
Dragging you downTelling all tall tales
Makes you look badSo you never believed in me
Tell you the truth
I never thought much of you
No, noTelling all tall tales
Makes you feel good
But that black tongue's
Dragging you downTelling all tall tales
Makes you look bad
