

Baroness

Wolfmother

He lives with the peasantry she lives with a high class
She sleeps in a mansion whilst he's sleeping on the grass
Coming out of the darkness with the love for the Baroness
Tonight, tonight, tonight, gonna leave it all behind
Tonight, tonight, could you be my valentine
Tonight, tonight, where the stars are meant to shine
Tonight Nobody ever sees her, she lives behind closed doors
He has no authority he's the one they all ignore
Coming out of the darkness with the love for the Baroness
Tonight, tonight, tonight, gonna leave it all behind
Tonight, tonight, could you be my valentine
Tonight, tonight, where the stars are meant to shine
Tonight Don't listen to no one
They never gonna let you out
Don't listen to no one
They never gonna work it out
Work it out Tonight, tonight, tonight, gonna leave it all behind
Tonight, tonight, could you be my valentine
Tonight, tonight, where the stars are meant to shine
Tonight
