

Castaway (feat. Jake Miller)

The Ready Set

I heard you say that you were writing a diary of a nobody and the pages burn right through if you want you can always talk to me talk to me cause I've got time for you. Do you feel you're not enough?
and impossible to love,
or like if you spoke your mind, all your words they would be too much Well I'll be with you in the dark and give you light when you're afraid,
like a billion shining stars,
everyone is a castaway. (Castaway)
Everyone is a castaway (castaway) Well I stepped back from the doubts, overtaking me
They were breaking me, so I know what you've been through.
Don't you stray or run away from the good that I know you do I saved myself, and I can save you too.
Do you feel you're not enough?
and impossible to love,
or like if you spoke your mind, all your words they would be too much Well I'll be with you in the dark
and give you light when you're afraid,
like a billion shining stars,
everyone is a castaway. (Castaway)
Everyone is a castaway (Castaway) Ooh ooh Everyone is a castaway [Jake Miller:]
Everybody is a castaway, Everybody's in the same boat
Yeah it's easy to sink when you're all alone
But together we can stay afloat.
Sometimes it feels like you're about to go under and you're lost in the world, no wonder.
But even when you feel like you've got nothing, Remember that we've got each other.
So just stand tall and keep pushing on,
and we can make it to the shore, I promise.
You might feel small but together we B.I.G

So when the water gets rough and you're fed up

Just stay strong, keep your head up
If you start to fall, remember that we'll Always be here to help you get up cause we're all castaways. Do you feel you're not enough?
and impossible to love,
or like if you spoke your mind, all your words they would be too much Well I'll be with you in the dark
to give you light when you're afraid,
like a billion shining stars,
everyone is a castaway. (Castaway)
