

Beautiful in White

Antiskeptic

and i'm walking on the cold side of the moon and i don't feel that peace of mind that i had read about in school my vision set on one a soul is lying it awaitsto feel alright broken, restless, tired the fear of flight

have i told you that you're beautiful in whiteand i'm strolling through a garden it's midday and i know her source of life so close to death and all it's pain so i pray for a safe flight jodie lies waiting now for dayspromises are waste believed in yesterday lied to, scorned, ashamed taken in yesterday

fading to the strain and fear of yesterday fear of yesterday

it's all liesand i'm dancing on the ocean waves it's late father commiserates and cries forever flying she partakes and soars to greater heights her life in harmony arrivedshe feels alright triumphant youthful child the weeks go by have i told you that you're beautiful have i told you that you're beautiful tonight, to-night
