

Hell and High Water

Kevin Quain

get up on your feet show us your teeth tear down the gods of your fathers in this flickering light this darkening dawn pray for the saints to come marching here we were born to wander running from the spell we're under bless us all hell and high water swallowed it down kept my mouth shut while I was crawling out of my cage and these are the days i still have this rage right from the cradle to middle age
here we were born to wander
bring it down now bring it all down we were born in the mud washed in the blood here's where our bones will be buried for now we're holding on tight praying for light building these crosses to carry
