Someone Forgot

Dynamite Boy

Someone forgot that I had feelings too
You let them throw that in my face
It's all your fault I could of been the one
I think about that everyday
What do you want? What is it that you need?
I'll tell you and you'll walk away
And I sing my songs over and all alone
I never try to understand
You just don't know how hard I tried
I never make things turn out right
Sometimes I still think about
You and there is no doubt
It's all I can do just not to Cry, die, I want no part of it.
Your life is not what I call
Meaningful what can I do to make it right?
What do you want? What is it that you need?
That you need? I'll tell you
And will start to fight.
