

The Last Song

Mr. Strange

I know this isn't what you wanted,
You wanted more of the same, well that's a game I cannot play,
Everything ends sometime,
If it doesn't end nothing new begins,
Maybe what it was was special,
But the writing's on the wall, I gotta leave and take the fall,
Things don't stay the same, they change,
Leave with a smile, it was all worth while, I know you want a song to make you smile,
To heal the hurt and comfort you in denial,
But this...
This is not that song,
This is goodbye, It was us against them all,
We thought we'd prove them wrong and change the world with a song,
Now the dream is over,
It's probably time to admit it,
There's no fate to help us though,
What we were and who we are isn't written in the stars,
For what it's worth, I'm sorry,
One day you'll realise and lose the sorrow in your eyes, To say it,
It's not easy,
It cuts out
A part of me I know you want a song to make you smile,
To heal the hurt and comfort you in denial,
But this...
This is not that song, This is the last song you'll hear me sing.

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>