

You Forget

Mandalay

Give to you only, so you'll believe
And my desire, I'm dead without
You rush and pull Hard to forget, it numbs the soul
I need to know, relishes fear
That you wear so well
It leaves me colder Hating this thing, I always see
I'm always saying something
I always said, it's not the end of something
I'll stand alone, I never meant to hurt you
I always do, it makes no sense But you forget, this time it's clear
To you I'm here but
Your love's the same and intent aside
We're night and day Still you forget how it numbs the soul
I need to know, only with you that I keep myself from all I know Hating this thing, I always see
I'm always saying something
I always said, it's not the end of something
I'll stand alone, I never meant to hurt you
I always do, it makes no sense what I do I never mean
Je sais, je sais
Je sais, je sais I always see, I'm always saying something
I always said, it's not the end
I understand what I did, I never meant to hurt you
I always do, it makes no sense what I do
