A Message

Park

Wake up, Blondie
This is your message
You struck deep
What most find hard to reachGod dammit, you warned me
Pleaded, "Don't get so involved"
I'll do what's best
And slowly dissolveI'd hold the sun up
Just to wake beside you
Imagine what you would see
If you just let yourself like meForget the incidence
Thoughtless and abusing
Imagine what you would see
If you just let yourself like meDon't be sorry, you're less enticing
You've just lost what most find hard to keep
I'll take two of the white ones
Forget what I said last month
I'll spare myself the embarrassmentI'd hold the sun up
Just to wake beside you
Imagine what you would see
If you just let yourself like meForget the incidence
Thoughtless and abusing
Imagine what you would see
If you just let yourself like me'Cause I doI was foolish
To have thought I could catch you
Stupid to have ever have liked you
Your sly little smile
Curbed the comforts I used to findSo drag me inside
I'm yours to use tonight
I'm yours to use tonightI'd hold the sun up
Just to wake beside you
Imagine what you would see
If you just let yourself like me
'Cause I do, 'cause I doI was foolish
To have thought I could catch you
Stupid to have ever have liked you
But I do, but I do
