

Black Sheep/Prodigal Sons

Black Book Lodge

It flows like a river
Through the hardened veins
Of all who have surrendered
To a dissociative and reckless behavior
Bringing them closer
To god in this godless world
And I wish for once I could give in and be like them
I'd walk straight into the void and never return
And I'd embrace the uncertainty and cross the line
Break in the sun 'till the sun broke down
They are unencumbered
By the laws of others
And never broken by any expectations
As they are fleeing the gutters
Reaching up higher
For god in this godless world
And I wish for once I could give in and be like them
I'd walk straight into the void and never return
And I'd embrace the uncertainty and cross the line
Break in the sun 'till the sun broke down
