Moments That Matter

Corbin Bleu

Looking back on a photo album of my life
It's the little things that make us smile
That, that, that, that make us smileLike the very first time that you discovered true love
It's a feeling you can't describe
But it always stays on your mindOr the first time you hear your song on the radio
That gives you goose bumps all over from head to toe
All the time you stayed up all night on the phone
And you look down and realize she's staring
At the same song as your booThat's what gets me sentimental
That's what life is all about
That's what gets me all emotional
More than all the things I can do without'Cause I figured out
These are the moments that matter, matter
And I figured out
That these are the moments that mean the most to me'Cause I know I've got friends, trust, family and love
All around me that should be enough
And I figured out
These are the moments that matter, matter to meThe one thing that I try cherish when I'm on the road
Is I know I'm never alone
N-n-never aloneJust look around at sunsets and waterfalls
And you know that God's very close
'Cause the world's full of miraclesIt's like that the first time that I learned my history
'Cause my dad looked down into my eyes
And broke it down for meI still remember my mother asking me how my day went
When I came home from school
And these are some sweet memories'Cause that's what gets me sentimental
That's what life is all about
That's what gets me all emotional
More than all the things I can do without'Cause I figured out
These are the moments that matter, matter
And I figured out
That these are the moments that mean the most to me'Cause I know I've got friends, trust, family and love
All around me that should be enough
And I figured out
These are the moments that matter, matterKeep people you love close to you
'Cause when it gets tough they'll help you pull through
No don't let anybody take your moment from you
'Cause that's all that matters in the end'Cause I figured out
These are the moments that matter, matter

And I figured out
These are the moments that mean the most to me'Cause I know I've got friends, trust, family and love
All around me that should be enough
And I figured out
These are the moments that matter, matter to meThat's all that matters to me, to me
That's all that matters to me, to me
That's all that matters to me, to me
That's all that matters
