

The Girl With The Dragon Tattoo • Save Me •

L.A. Guns

I've been defaulted
I am sitting in the crowded room
Screaming out of my head
No one can hear me
I induce me
It's like I'm all in over and over again when will life become my friend? And you left me behind
All alone and broken with no one by my side
Won't someone save me from myself
I am not defended
I don't know if I will find my own way out
Would someone save me from this hell
I am so far down and I'm fading out
And I am about to drown in myself Latest.
I am broken
Into a million little bad pieces
Trying to put 'em back together again.
This life, it doesn't see me
Like the Girl with the Dragon Tattoo,
I'm in and I'm out and I leave no clue And you left me behind
All alone and broken with no one by my side
Won't someone save me from myself
I am not defended
I don't know if I will find my own way out
Won't someone save me from this hell
I am so far down and I am fading out
And I am about to drown in myself I gotta find a way to pull myself together again
Together again
And when I open up my mind
I will see the sun again And you left me behind
All alone and broken with no one by my side
Won't someone save me from myself
I am not defended
I don't know if I will find my own way out
Would someone save me from this hell
I am not defended
I don't know if I will find my own way out Won't someone save me from myself
I am not defended
I don't know if I will find my own way out

Would someone save me from myself
I am not defended
I don't know if I will find my own way out
I'm so falling down and I am fading out
And I am about to drown in myself
