The Sunken Paradise

Atrocity

Heavy sea, red burning water
Lava is floating, smoke is blowing
Before it was a precious island
Now not even ruins leftDrowned to the ground of the ocean
Never found again
Just in one night, one day
Our island swept awayWe are sailing from Atlantis
The sunken paradise
Just in one night, one day
Our dreams were taken awayWe are sailing from Atlantis
A soon forgotten paradiseOur ships are heading towards a new land
Hot winds are playing with our own sails
We lost our homes, our place of birth
We are lost souls searching for a novel worldDrowned to the ground of the ocean
Never found againJust it one night, one day
Our island swept away
We are sailing from Atlantis
The sunken paradiseJust in one night, one day
Our dreams were taken away
We are sailing from Atlantis
A soon forgotten paradiseWe will face storm and wind
We provoked the Gods, everything is lost
We moved heaven and earth
A new time will comeOne night, one day
In one night, one dayJust it one night, one day
Our island swept away
We are sailing from Atlantis
The sunken paradiseJust in one night, one day
Our dreams were taken away
We are sailing from Atlantis
A soon forgotten, a soon forgotten paradise
