Back home is where she stays
She rids my minds pollution
When she whispers t okay?br> I can still find some solace
Two thousand miles away
Wee built our own safe haven
I our tight embraceShe perfect
I seeing it in her face

No one else can take her place, take her place, take her place

Hundreds of Thousands of faces
Standing hungry in the streets
What's written in future (destiny)?
Who's bad karma/vibes has hurt them
(This line is very hard to translate exactly)

Two symbols of jealousy

Led by hate and anger
Fueled by false hopes of richesJust Perfect
