

The Land of No Forgiveness

Greg Trooper

The Land of No Forgiveness

Come Lay beside me beneath the leaves
On the hill that Lies outside this River town.
My Shoulder waits for you to take your rest
and let the storm inside you settle down.

No more will you depend on darkened skies
Effecting once again the art of fear.
My heart has got you lined up in it's sight.
Take my hand babe - lets get out of here.

CHORUS: I met you in the land of No Forgiveness
Fighting in the wars that do not yield
I bet you dreamed that you might witness
A light reflecting off your sword and shield.

I hope you know, together we will ride
forever though this maze of thorns and tears
Not once will I even leave your side
So babe, decide to let the dark clouds disappear

CHORUS

Come Lay beside me beneath the leaves
On the hill that Lies outside this River town.
My Shoulder waits for you to take your rest
and let the storm inside you settle down.

and let the storm inside you settle down

Lyrics Submitted by LORRAINE RYAN

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>