

Freedom Rider

Traffic

Like a hurricane around your heart
When earth and sky are torn apart
He comes gathering up the bits
While hoping that the puzzle fits He leads you, he leads you
Freedom rider With a silver star between his eyes
That open up at hidden lies
Big man crying with defeat
See people gathering in the street You feel him, you freak him
Freedom rider When lightning strikes you to the bone
You turn around, you're all alone
By the time you hear that siren sound
Then your soul is in the lost and found Forever, forever
Freedom rider Here it comes, here it comes Here it comes, here it comes
