

Weak In The Knees

Serena Ryder

Would you mind if I pretended
We were somewhere else?
Doing something we wanted to
'Cause all this living makes me wanna do is die
'Cause I can't live with you
And you don't even care
Would you mind if I pretended
I was someone else
With courage in love and war
I used to think that's what I was
But now this lying hurts too much
And I don't know what for
I'm weak in the knees for you
But I'll stand if you want me to
My legs are strong and I'll move on
But honey, I'm weak in the knees
Would you mind if I walked over
And I kissed your face
In front of all of your friends?
Would you mind if I got drunk
And said I wanna take you home to bed?
Oh, would you change your mind?
I'm weak in the knees for you
But I'll stand if you want me to
My legs are strong and I'll move on
But honey, I'm weak in the knees
How could I be such a fool to think
That there was anything that your love could bring
To my life, to my eyes, what I wanna see
That I wanted your love to belong to me
I'm weak in the knees for you
But I'll stand if you want me to, oh
My legs are strong and I'll move on
Honey, I'm weak, oh honey, I'm weak, ohh
Oh, for you, oh, for you
Oh, for you, oh, for you
Oh, for you
