Confessions of Hatred

Sevendust

Impossible to reason with the thoughts in mind To direct, to forget about my pastimes

I assure you of one thing

This is something you'll never forgetIn time, I'm sure you'll understand

The sound of the crack, the slap of my hand

Was only intended for one thing

The one thing I never hadPalms sweaty, thoughts dry

Hand fed by a broken mind

Hands shakin', don't cry

It'll all be overAnd then you'll have the chance to see the hole inside

The painted picture of a wounded mind

I can never escape this

You helped me create this hateMy undying addiction

How were you the last to know?

You brought this on yourself

Now you're the next in line to see all that I've become

Confessions of hatredResponsible for bringing out my darkest side

I tried to hide what I feel

But it's my time to inflict all the damage

Some indescribable painHeart beating, last cry

Anticipating what I have in mind

Lick my lips, an approach to you

With undeniable ****ing hateMy undying addiction

How were you the last to know?

You brought this on yourself

Now you're the next in line to see all that I've become

Confessions of hatredOne day I'll become whole again, till then, I'll just remember

I thought you understood being misunderstood

How wrong was I to think you ever would?

One day I'll become whole again, whole againMy undying addiction

I never thought you'd be the last to know

You brought this all on yourself now

You will be the next in line to see all that I've become

Victim till your last breath, all the hope is gone

Confessions of hatred, I'll show you pain
