

Feel the Sun

Melanie C

These thoughts can be evil then they often deceive
Gotta believe, that I can overcome
My fears are the worst and they always return
I never learn, feel like I don't belong
Lost in the wreckage of a million bad dreams
Hard to function, I just need some routine
God it's obscene, when did they stop the fun?
I knew that something must be done
(To save the person I'd become)
That's why I had to run away
Feel the sun, waves crash like my emotion
Life has begun, now I will be safe from the storm
I found the one, this angel's my salvation
I'm feeling strong, you will be there if I fall
Guilt is no use it will tarnish your soul
Just let it go the battle will soon be won
Cold in the shadow of who I should be
There's a fire burnin' deep inside me
Helping me see, only I hold the key
And now I stand here unafraid
(Proud of everything I've made)
That's why I had to run away
Feel the sun, waves crash like my emotion
Life has begun, now I will be safe from the storm
I found the one, this angel's my salvation
I'm feeling strong, you will be there if I fall
There's so much energy, at last I can be free
(Haa, haa, aaa)
I am the person I was looking for (Aaa aaa)
Feel the sun, waves crash like my emotion
Life has begun, now I will be safe from the storm
I found the one, this angel's my salvation
I'm feeling strong, I'll never fall
You are there when I call
