Dislocated

El Caco

You crashed into my window
Broke a wing and lost your breath
A perfect moment on a chilly day
What counts is that you came to stay

Paralyzed and numb
Flew in so strong
Seems so fragile
Lying still with a smile

Where are you going this fall
To the south or are you staying cold
Iâ€™ve got a blanket made of wool
Iâ€™ll make a fire and try to act cool

I dreamed of things that could not be
I bow in disgrace and offer you me

I dreamed of things that could not be
I bow in disgrace and offer you me instead

I dreamed of things that could not be
I bow in disgrace and offer you me

I dreamed of things that could not be
I bow in disgrace and offer you me
