Message from Kathlene

Alkaline Trio

I guess I'll always stop and see you
And we'll run into each other's lives
Yeah, I guess, although it tears me up inside
Everytime it burns my eyes with tears
But I know you're worth the pain
I've so much more to gain by waiting for youYou're going away but you're not going far
So if he decides to leave you alone and crying
You know I'm still here, the faithful one
Waiting for a message from Kathlene
Then I'll come.. fasterThan I ever thought that I could run
'Cause I..
I need you more than I ever thought
That I could need someone
Someone Someone Someone elseI know I will always stop and see you
And we'll run into each other's fucked up lives
Yeah, I guess, although it tears me up inside
Everytime it burns my eyes with tearsBut your waking up is the start of my lost cause
And then you decide to leave me alone and crying
But you know I'm still here, the faithful one
Waiting for a message from KathleneThen I'll come.. faster
Than I ever thought that I could run
'Cause I..
I need you more than I ever thoughtThat I could need someone
Someone Someone Someone else
