Every Time I Look At You

Blake Shelton

It brings back an old feeling Running into you like this I'm really not afraid of hurting

But I can't stand the awkwardness

Do I laugh? Do I cry?

Do I dare look in your eyes?Oh no, here it goes

My hands start to shake

My heart's gonna show

Like the day we met

To the night you said, "We're through"

Every time I look at youYou seem to be a bit distracted

I wish that I could feel the same

You never were too good at acting

Baby, some things never change

I can't keep from letting go

It's something that I can't controlOh no, here it goes

My hands start to shake

My heart's gonna show

Like the day we met

To the night you said, "We're through"

Every time I look at youYou stand there looking sweet and innocent

But how can you be so cruel and confident

At my expenseOh no, here it goes

My hands start to shake

My heart's gonna show

Like the day we met

To the night you said, "We're through"

Every time I look atOh no, here it goes

My hands start to shake

My heart's gonna blow

Like the day we met

To the night you said, "We're through"

Every time I look at youOh yeah

Every time I look at you
