

More Than a Breakup Song

Jude Cole

This conversation is a trance
The years fly by at a glance
The blame game is the clue
That everyone I've ever loved is youAnd you've done nothing wrong
And this is more than a breakup songIt's simple as honesty
And honest as the hole in me
Eyes that see for someone else
May never have to see them selfAnd you've done nothing wrong
And this is more than a breakup song
Now you've done nothing wrongHow could I tell you
The weight that's been lifted
I've opened my heart
And your mind goes drifting onThe chemistry and gravity
I'm spinning in apologies
Now this is what I've turned into
For everyone I've ever loved is youAnd you've done nothing wrong
And this is more, this is more
This is more than a breakup song
