

Go With Your Gut

Stay True

Let's get this story straight
I'm not the same old kid you used to hate
I've grown up, I've moved on, it's true
But I couldn't seem to get away from you
I try to tell myself we're over and done, but you always hold me back 'cause I know you're the one
So cut me some slack and mend back what you broke, heal my pain before I choke
Woah, just let me talk
No, I won't let it go
I've got you right in the palm of my hands and I'm not gonna miss this chance
Listen up I won't say it twice
I dropped everything I had and rolled the dice
I went with my gut and hoped for the best
I did it all for you so forget the rest
Four years later and now you seem so lost
Do you want me back or am I not worth the cost?
Woah, just let me talk
No, I won't let it go
I've got you right in the palm of my hands and I'm not gonna miss this chance
Go with your gut (with your gut)
Go with your gut (with your gut) Why can't you just listen to what I have to say?
I've done all you've asked and still you just push me away
(I'm holding on to my hopeless ways, wondering if this is just another phase)
