Dead Leaves

Sentenced

(music: Tenkula & Sentenced, lyrics: Lopakka) Yes, Autumn's here again... to put all forms of life to an end Death has taken over and slowly fades the light away
The deadly shadows fall... and the bleeding sun sinks down below
The first flakes of snow quide me on my last pathway Alive no more... what once was green has turned to red Leaves start their fall... gray with the whiteness of what's dead
The wintry frost comes crawling freezing all life that's on its way the first dead leaves come falling, hovering in the air with the rain
I feel the flaming frost...
I feel the burning ice and snow for the first time since the night was taken away
Alive no more... what once was green has turned to red
Leaves lightly fall... gray with the whiteness of what's dead
The wintry frost comes crawling ceasing all life that's on its way Dead frozen leaves come falling,
hovering in the air with the rain
..hovering in the air...
"...and as the last leaf hovers down upon the ground, the end is at hand -- I'll find the one I came looking for..."
Alive no more... what once was green has turned to red
Leaves lightly fall... gray with the whiteness of what's dead
The wintry frost comes crawling freezing all life on its way the last dead leaves come falling,
hovering in the air with the rain
The End of Life comes crawling ceasing my bleeding heart and now..
The last dead leaf comes falling, hovering lightly down upon the ground
..upon the frozen ground...
