

Happy Ending

Bottom Line

Remember the time,
When we hardly spoke at all
The date was going fine
'Till you threw my heart against the wall'cause you had better things to do
You gave them up for me anyway
I only lied to them
And words can't say how much you meant to me
Just waiting for something we can't expect
Pick up the pieces
Not exactly what I had in mind
Until we dream again
Nothing will ever work out right'cause you had better things to do
You gave them up for me anyway
I only lied to them
When words can't say how much you meant to me
Just waiting for the things we can't expect
