

Valiant Faith

Jenny Phillips

Too many people are just sliding by,
plugged into the world,
but missing the meaning of life.
But I was born to be a warrior of light
with faith to move mountains
and the power of God filling my life.

I want to live my life with honor and faith.
I want to return to his arms unashamed.
It's not enough for me to live it half way.
I'll follow him fearlessly all of my days.
I will live with valiant faith.

I lived for ages. I've prepared for this life.
I won't be confused,
and cross to the enemies side.
I am girded with power and truth.
I'm siding with God.
He's pouring out blessings in all that I do.

I want to live my life with honor and faith.
I want to return to his arms unashamed.
It's not enough for me to live it half way.
I'll follow him fearlessly all of my days.
I will live with valiant faith.

Valiantly, fearlessly,
I'm fighting for the mighty king.

Valiantly, fearlessly,
I'm fighting for the mighty king.

I want to live my life with honor and faith.
I want to return to his arms unashamed.
It's not enough for me to live it half way.
I'll follow him fearlessly all of my days.
I will live with valiant faith.
