Breakdown

Biohazard

You'll never break me downUnjustified, persecution of my free mind
I'm horrified, the cruel nature of you and your kind
Crucified for just tryin' to be myself
Suicide, I'd rather die than live in your hellI will not break, I will not bend
I will not go quietly, I will never bow down to themI close my eyes, I can see more clearly
You criticize the things I hold dearly
You victimize because you fear me
It's your demise, you should have let me beI will not break, I will not bend
I will not go quietly, I will never bow down to themBreak me, you won't break me
Break me, you won't break me downThe harder I swim against the tide the more it pulls me down
Feel the pressure on my life, as I struggle and fight not to drown
Why do you, why do you try to break me? You'll never break me down
I'll never let you break me, you'll never break me downThe more I try to live my life, the harder you are on me
There is no wrong, there is no right, what will it take for you to see?Why do you, why do you try to break me?
You'll never break me down
I'll never let you break me, you'll never break me down
Break me, you won't break me, break me down
