From the Inside

Poco

Sittin' near ya, starin' at ya, saying nothing
Wonderin' if you're really you
And if I'm someone that you could know
Beyond the first helloEyes that search like the morning sun but never finding Silently I can feel the glow and I'm not minding
But then you know I've been tryin' to show
Why it makes me cry, I'm talkin' it over from the insideSomething new and oh, so sacred
Grows within the depths of you
But still I just can't keep from wonderin'
For I'm but a child, tooChanges timelessly fill the spaces
It's so blind of me
I've seen the faces of a gifted few
Who can help us break our chains that bindThinkin' all the time, why I can't unwind?
You must feel the pain
Why it makes me cry, I'm talkin' it over from the insideSomething new and oh, so sacred
Grows within the depths of you
But still I just can't keep from wonderin'
For I'm but a child, tooAnd I'm talkin' it over from the inside
