Going Under

Marillion

Is it wrong to talk to myself even when there's nobody else?

I'm just checkin' out that I'm not gone under the water

Thrown on the beach like a seal ready for slaughterCan't you understand that the way things were planned

It never worked out so I would just went crazy

I took to the drink, like something says it's maybeI ain't got no excuse and that's really the news

Got nothing else to say, that it's my way, it's always my way

I seem to be runnin' away so oftenI'll try anything once and that's the way we should be

But it's always the same gettin' caught up again in a habit, a habit

But I just can't shake off the way it always turned outCan you understand it's the way I choose to be?

Everything seems so easy this way but I'm goin' under fast

Slippin' away, am I so crazy?
