

The Struggle

Blacklite District

I remember the day when I got the call,
Remember the day when I lost it all;
I remember the day with the tear in my eye,
Remember the day like it was only mine;
A tragedy tapped on my shoulder and said "Hello", yeah
And it took my soul.

Like you, nothing's forever,
Like you, some things just die
Like you, I am no better,
Like you, we wait and see because

Like me, the struggle is real, the struggle is real, the struggle is real.
Like me, the struggle is real, the struggle is real, the struggle is real.

Oh oh oh oh oh oh,

Like me, like me, like me.
The struggle is real, the struggle is real, the struggle is real,
Like me.

Like me, like me, like me.

I remember the drive that we had to take,
Remember the miles that made my heart shake;
I remember the feel of loss in the air,
Remember the sight of you everywhere;

Insanity killed me and I never let it go,
No I never let it go;

Like you, nothing's forever,
Like you, some things just die
Like you, I am no better,
Like you, we wait and see because

Like me, the struggle is real, the struggle is real, the struggle is real.
Like me, the struggle is real, the struggle is real, the struggle is real.

Oh oh oh oh oh oh,

Like me, like me, like me.

The struggle is real, the struggle is real, the struggle is real,
Like me.

Like me, like me, like me.

It's time, to finally let it go,

It's time, to finally let it go (Like me, like me.)
Like me, like me.

Like me, the struggle is real, the struggle is real, the struggle is real.
Like me, the struggle is real, the struggle is real, the struggle is real.

Oh oh oh oh oh oh,

Like me, like me, like me.

The struggle is real, the struggle is real, the struggle is real,
Like me.

Like me, like me, like me.

Lyrics Submitted by Nualie

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>