I'll Cry Tomorrow

Cauterize

Wake me when it's over
I don't feel much like crying tonight
Please tell me that you're leaving
I don't feel much like holding you tightI love you even though I hate this thing that we've become
I need you even though I can live without thisI know that I should probably hurt so bad but I can't feel a thing
I know that I should probably say something but I can barely breathe
And I'm sorry if I'm giving up too easy
I just don't have the strength to fight no moreMy throat is sore from pleading
I don't feel much like singing tonight
If I can stop the bleeding, I know that I will be alrightI'll forget your bitter taste when you pull your lips away
I'll forget the way you feel and the chill of your embrace
I'll forget the way you look
Don't wanna remember your face
Let's just cut this clean tonight and maybe I'll cry tomorrowExplain the way you feel, you said to me
I simply feel nothing and honestly I'd like to leave
