Parker Lane

Predictable like the setting sun
Reaching out when your night is done
    Feel like live can come from air
    I want more from life than this
    Some battles I know I can't win
        I won't even try to pretend
        It don't matter what people say
    Still coming through even though it's late
        Round and round he said she said
        Misunderstandings killing my head
            No No No No No
            It's just us
            No No No oh No
            Our crazy love
        We both know how this goes
        I'm not gonna be your 3:00 AM
Is not what you think you're my everything
    To hell with who and where we've been you're all I want at 3:00 AM
    Predictable like the dark of night
    Just because I'm wrong doesn't make you right
        If you only knew what's in my heart
        You'd come right in the door's unlocked
            The twisted part about this love
            No matter what I can't get enough
            Mentally all black and blue
            I can't fight it I still choose you
            But at 3:00 AM I still choose you
            Round and round he said she said
            Misunderstandings killing my head
                No No No No No
                It's just us
                No No No oh No
                Our crazy love
        We both know how this goes
        I'm not gonna be your 3:00 AM
Is not what you think you're my everything
    To hell with who and where we've been
        you're all I want at 3:00 AM

(You're all I want)
3:00 AM
(Yeah)
3:00 AM
No No No No No
It's just us
No No No oh No
Our crazy love
We both know how this goes
I'm not gonna be your 3:00 AM
Is not what you what you think you're my everything
To hell with who and where we've been
you're all I want at 3:00 AM
