

Boomerang (feat Tay Beckham)

Le Youth

Boomerang boomerang Stacking photographs is where we're at

'Cause you didn't want to try

Now you're calling out someone who's in the picture

You're too late to change my mind And now if you're blackening

I'm underneath

It's no proof for you and me

I thought you'd say we'll be okay

And if we take a step to try

My way to find you're in my mind

You've already failed to come

I don't know what you've been up

It's got your name

Don't see an invitation

You ain't gotta change

I don't know what you've been up

'Cause you've let me walk away

Fixing up all my things

I ain't coming back,

Boomerang

Boomerang

Boomerang

Boomerang

I ain't coming back,

I don't know what you've been up

'Cause you've let me walk away

Fixing up all my things

I ain't coming back,

Not a word you say can make me see any difference

You're still the one who broke my heart

Oh, oh

No, not far you couldn't see everything I'm missing

I wanna fix till it falls apart Now you see it black and white,

Imagine me, see it through for you and me

Looks like we're not really okay

So, come and take yourself to try

I'm done wasting with my life

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>