Window To The World

Geddy Lee

I've gone flying, trying to reach you
You've been hiding, riding me to a state like thisGive me that window to Give me that window to
Give me that window to the worldWe are sailing, flailing through the ether
You've been trailing, failing me with your view of blissA little more than this
A little less than that
You've got magic in your handsA little more like this
A little less like that
I've got magic in my handsGive me that window to Give me that window to
Give me that window to the worldYou've conspired, inspired me to find a place like thisGive me that window to
Give me that window to
Give me that window to the world
