Native Speaker

The Braids

Swirls around my open head for days slayed a place for you to lay the most beautiful of minds downsoftest cheeks i kiss so lightly on the side i can see you 'round the corner of my eyeit doesn't really matter how many times you say no (no)
'cause i've seen better continuously reflecting my thoughts that say so (so) and I know the days aren't only about touching, loving you.
it feels good
it feels goodswirls around my open head for days (days) made a place for you to lay the most beautiful of minds down pinkest lips i kiss so nicely honest nights as it felt maybe having you inside me of having you rest inside me of having you beside me of having you inside meoh you are my native speaker oh you are my native speaker
